
Township of Langley

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: August 26, 2021

Foyer Art 2022 Call for Entries

Langley, BC – Langley Centennial Museum is again showcasing the works of local artists through its Foyer Art Program and invites artists to submit photographs of recent artwork, in any medium, for consideration to be featured in the upcoming 2022 program.

The Foyer Art Program offers artists the opportunity to exhibit their work in a prominent place near the entrance at Langley Centennial Museum. The location can accommodate between three and ten pieces of artwork, depending on the size of the pieces. Although preference will be given to local Langley artists, the program is open to artists from across the Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley. The site is best suited to exhibit two-dimensional artwork, although three-dimensional work may be considered.

“We are always amazed by the work that comes forward from the community,” said Arts and Heritage Curator Kobi Christian, “I’m sure that will continue with this year’s applicants. The program allows artists to gain some experience exhibiting their work, and gives the museum a chance to highlight local talent.”

The museum plans to display the artists’ works in two-month time slots throughout 2022. Christian encourages artists to come by the museum for an entry form, or to download one using the foyer art link at museum.tol.ca. Applications will be accepted by mail, email, or drop-off at the museum at 9135 King Street in Fort Langley.

The submission deadline for applications is the end of day on Tuesday, November 30, 2021. For more information, contact 604.532.3536 or curator@tol.ca.

###

Photo cutline: Joel Libin’s pieces are currently on display at Langley Centennial Museum in the Foyer Art Program.

Media inquiries on this or other Township of Langley topics can be submitted at: tol.ca/mediainquiries.