

Candidate Statement

Kerri Ross

We are rapidly approaching being the fastest growing municipality in the Metro Vancouver. To be competitive, and progressive, it's imperative we look for greater dialogue with communities - communication is key.

Residents and businesses are looking for solutions to issues with parking. Families need to trust there will be room for their children in community schools. Residents want to feel safe and secure in increasingly developed neighbourhoods. At the same time our agricultural base want to know there is room for them in our future. We need to make sure we are engaging discussions that address these concerns before they become a reality, as opposed to spending time and resources moving to fix issues after the fact.

My family has had businesses in Langley for over 20 years and we want to continue to contribute to it's growth so our children, your children, can be a part of Langley's future.
