'Age of Love'

Join us for this documentary/film and presentation that features door prizes, swag bags, popcorn, and refreshments!

Director's Statement ~ Steven Loring

While the world's fastest-growing age group is 65 and over, when we consider love and desire, our youth-obsessed media still embraces the clichés. Rarely in our culture are older adults given voice as emotionally intricate individuals. By attracting a wide audience with the humorous premise of 'Grandparents Going Speed Dating', The Age of Love is a provocative entertainment that also addresses our society's most insidious preconceptions of aging - that the emotional needs of anyone over 65 are similar and self-evident, limited to health and financial concerns, and largely unrelated to those of younger generations. On the contrary, as we watch these seniors navigate the comedy and drama of dating, their actions and emotions reveal how the desire to love and be loved not only connects hearts of young and old, but, more unexpectedly, remains just as confounding, nerve-wracking, and rewarding at any stage in life.
